Cosmetic Bonding

If imperfections in your smile are getting you down, Charlotte dental can provide a solution that's durable and looks natural and complete. Cosmetic bonding is a process in which a versatile composite resin is used to repair imperfect teeth and improve your smile.

Cosmetic bonding might be right for you if your teeth are:

- chipped or fractured
- crooked
- irregularly shaped

AFTER

The main advantages to having your smile remodeled with composite materials are that the resin used for bonding is extremely versatile and malleable, and when dry, extremely durable.

Your cosmetic dentist will sit down with you and discuss your desired outcome to plan the improvements for your smile. When you're satisfied with the plans, your dentist will apply the moldable, putty-like resin as needed, sculpt it to form and allow it to dry. When the composite material is dry, it can be shaved and polished to match the existing teeth, simply adding the improvements to your smile that you desire.

Cosmetic bonding is an easy and durable way to seamlessly improve your smile.
