How to make dental care a family event:

1. Buy the right size of toothbrush for the family member.
2. Use a song so a child knows how long to brush and to keep them interested- like "This is the Way We Brush our Teeth." Make it a family activity by singing together.
3. The whole family can benefit from mouthwash. While adults might like the fresh breath some child-friendly mouthwashes can encourage brushing from younger family members.

4. Your family has different tastes – why should they use the same toothpaste? Let the kids try out some of the wacky flavored toothpastes.
5. Use a calendar or chart to track tooth brushing twice a day. Track the entire family's habits and let the older family members set a good example for the younger ones.
6. Create a family reward system for keeping up with dental hygiene or with a cavity-free visit to Charlotte Dentistry®.
